

I am thrilled with Telephone Consumer Protection Act. I can finally eat my dinner in peace. However, with this in place, I occasionally get a call. I was told by one caller that they are exempt from this act. Is that true? How do I report telemarketers who violate this act? I very much want to continue to enjoy my dinner. Please keep this act in effect.